HARDWICK — A long-hauler for some shops' storefronts is returning to Hardwick with new owners. Rose and Phil Henderson returned to the Flower Shop on July 7 and will reopen in Hardwick storefront after a five-year absence.

Previous owners David Ferguson and Denise have closed the village storefront three years ago and ran the shop from their home in Bellows Falls, the Flower Shop's last owners. The Hendersons moved to their new location in the former village shop in 2014. The Hendersons are now four decades old and have the shop open at the Hardwick location. When the shop opens it will be a new beginning.

People will enjoy one of over 100 varieties of the 2019 American Purple Hybrid Annual Collection of Calliopsis flowers. The event was sponsored by the Town of Craftsbury for the benefit of Craftsbury Hospital.
